Let's not get personal...

It's issues that count!

AS a non-aligned, community newspaper, The GEM aims to provide an objective platform for a lively but reasoned debate of local issues that affect us all, free of personalised attacks that obscure the issues, lower the level of debate, and insult the intelligence of our readers.

In an age of austerity, it is inevitable that as stringent economic measures continue to bite, the widespread social impact – particularly in cuts to local services – arouses intense passions on all sides of the political divide, as evidenced in our letters columns recently.

This is sure to intensify, with political parties already sharpening their campaign knives for the long run-in to UK and Welsh Assembly elections in the next two years or

It is timely then to remind all correspondents that The GEM is less interested in divisive 'blame games' and personal or party-political agendas, than in reflecting the genuine concerns of the local communi-ty, as a whole, at a very difficult time.

We believe this is what our readers rightly expect from The GEM, which unlike others in the media, endeavours to be inclusive and impartial in its coverage, leaving them to form their own conclu-

What is the point of 'developing' the harbour, or even building a tidal wave pool, with us having the second highest tide around?

Will it give residents and visitors a 'something to do' on rainy days? Or extra toilets, come to think of it?

Removing our police and fire stations together with all the shops closing – will hardly bring in the throngs; all that seems to be on the line are more flats and houses.

Do the councillors who make these deci-sions, realise there are only two ways in and out of the town? Chaos will reign, as usual. Porthcawl.

NEWS FROM THE PORTHCAWL U3A

JFK - an 'amazing, tragic, brief life' recently at the Hi-Tide Inn, where Doug Jones spoke President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The three rifle-shots that rang out in Dealey Plaza stunned the world and created one of its greatest mysteries.
Friday, November 22, 1963

was a hot day in Dallas, Texas, when at 12.30pm one or more snipers assassinated the 35th President of America

Having visited three southern cities the previous day, President Kennedy was advised against a visit to Dallas. However, at 11.05am with his wife Jackie he boarded Air Force One for the short flight.

The president was assassinated soon after arriving at the ironical-ly named Dallas Love Field airport, and Lyndon Johnson was sworn in as President at Love Field just hours later.

The amazing, tragic, brief life of John Fitzgerald Kennedy began as the second of nine children born to Rose and Joseph Kennedy. His father, a self-made millionaire by the age of 30, was the outbreak of war with Germany. JFK had a privileged childhood but his parents expect-ed children to "strive and succeed" and their father's motto was

"I expect winners, not losers".

A brave medal-winning war service in the South Pacific was a precursor to his political career, marriage to Jackie Bouvier in 1953 and, finally, the US Presidency

His 1961 inaugural speech 'ask not what your country can do for you" began nearly four years of extraordinary leadership, which saw his bold initiatives win the space race and his brinkmanship win the Cuban missile crisis, the closest the world has come to a nuclear war. In 1962, the Soviet Union had no missiles capable of reaching the US, so Premier Nikita Khrushchev began installing nuclear missiles in Cuba, just 90 miles from America Kennedy retaliated with a naval blockade.

After 13 days of the world Armageddon, expecting Khrushchev agreed to withdraw his missiles and war was averted.

installed between the two leaders

Kennedy's charisma, numerous affairs and incredible political courage in attacking organised crime, widespread poverty, racial-ism in the south and worldwide communism, brought him devotees and enemies.

The enormity of his assassination bewildered and mortified people across the world and public grief was replaced by never-ending conspiracy theories.

Who did assassinate John F Kennedy?

Accusations involving the CIA, Mafia, FBI and Cuban exiles are legion, but all official investigations have accused Lee Harvey Oswald, who was shot dead two days after his arrest by Jack Ruby inside the Dallas Police Headquarters.

Porthcawl U3A president Doug Jones marked the 50th anniversary of this tragedy in the first monthly talk to be held at the Hirde. He captivated and enthralled everyone who attended his PowerPoint presentation with his great knowledge of this remarkable story.

to the service following their first meeting with their regular midwife. Julie Evans is one of two specially trained smoking cessation mid-wives delivering the programme: "The MAMSS service helps pregnant women access the support they need to stop smoking and improve their health as well as their baby's.

"When we receive a referral, we contact the mum-to-be and arrange to visit her at home. "We are very flexible and make sure we see the women when it is convenient for her so she feels more support-ed and in control of the treatment.

"The first session is an assessment session and we discuss the different nicotine replace-able. Then we provide six or seven one-to-one sessions at the patient's home to give advice and support and to check how she is managing.

Twenty-year-old Natasha Finnemore, from Garth, stopped smoking seven weeks ago, thanks to the programme: "I wanted to give up smoking for my lifestyle, my health and especially as I am preg-nant. I want to ensure that my baby is healthy and isn't breathing in cigarette smoke.

"I also want to be a good role model for my baby when it's older and for others as well. I am feeling really good and much healthier.

"My skin feels better and I am drinking lots of water. I've also got more money, which means I can buy the baby more things.

"I came across the MAMSS service at my first midwife appoint-ment. She tested my carbon monoxide levels and checked if I smoked, and asked if I would like to be referred. The sessions have really helped."

Self-service for the borrowers at Bridgend Library

ABOVE: Library staff test one of the 'self-service' machines before it is installed into the new library.

VISITORS to the new Bridgend Library will be able to borrow books using 'selfservice' machines, Bridgend County Borough Council (BCBC) has revealed.

Due to open at Bridgend Recreation Centre next month, the new library will feature state-of-the-art machines that enable users to borrow, renew and return multiple books and other library items independently.

The touch-screen machines will use radio requency identification (RFID) technology, and Coun Lyn Morgan, cabinet member for wellbe-ing, said: "These new self-service machines will make borrowing library items quicker and easier than ever before.

"Not only will using the machines be excit-ing for children and make visiting the library more convenient, but they will give library staff more time to perform important library duties, such as recommending books and authors to members, and increasing the number of different activities taking place.

"With around 10,000 new books moving into the library, I'd like to thank the members of library staff who are working exceptionally hard to make sure every book is compatible with the self-service machines

Porthcawl Museum takes care of The Rest's records

PORTHCAWL Museum has played its part in keeping historical documents from the Rest Convalescent Home safe for future historians.

The Rest Home recently closed and a home was needed for records going back more than 100 years. David Swidenbank, the vice-chairman of the museum, explained: "We were carrying out its research into Porthcawl and the Great War and the part played by the Rest, and were asked for advice on the appropriate disposal of the build-ing's historical records and artefacts.

"Our advice was that the documents should be deposited with the Glamorgan Archive in Cardiff, which already holds substantial records for the Rest.

"The written records, numbering over 130 volumes, some dating back to the 1890s, document the day-to-day running of the Rest. Of particular interest are the patient records, which offer a fascinating view of local social history.

"The artefacts include the Glamorgan Yeomanry uniform jacket and hat worn by The Rest's founder. Dr. James Lewis, together with a selection of photographs that chart the history of the building. "The uniform will be retained by the museum for display, following inspection by the conservation team at the Museum of Wales, Cardiff. All but five of the written records have been deposited at the Glamorgan Archive, where they will be fully catalogued and made available to the general public.

"The remaining volumes, which cover admissions to the Rest during 1913 to 1915, will continue to be held by the museum for its Great War project in partnership with Porthcawl Comprehensive School.

(www.porthcawlandthe-greatwar.com).
"These will then also be deposited at the Glamorgan Archive."

Mr Swidenbank continued: "One of these volumes contains information relating to the aftermath of the Senghenydd mine explosion, which took the lives of 430 men; the centenary of this disaster is this week.

"The patient admit-tance records show that 12 survivors of the explosion were admitted to the Rest with injuries ranging from broken limbs to carbon monox-

ORBIS operate in some of the poorest communities in the world. They not only offer treatment to those suffering from reduced vision or blindness, but also provide training to local nurses and doctors in advanced medical techniques, to ensure there is a long term improvement in eye care within the communities visited.

According to the World Health Organisation, 39 million people globally are blind but 80 per cent could be treated or cured.

CARDIFF CROWN COURT ROUND-UP by AJ SICLUNA

Tondu man is jailed for six months for shovel attack

DURING a row over a £20 debt, a man was struck with a shovel and suffered an injury to his lower back, Cardiff Crown Court has heard.

Jason White (38) of Glan-y-Nant, Tondu, was jailed for six months.

He admitted possessing an offen-sive weapon, causing actual bodily harm, and theft.

Prosecutor Gareth James said that on July 25, Michael Blake was walking along Coity Road, Bridgend, when he came across White, who he said owed him £20.

There was an altercation, said Mr James, during which White struck Mr Blake a single blow with a shov-

He was arrested soon afterwards and when searched, was found to have a debit card which was not his property.

Fortunately, said Mr James, the owner had cancelled the card and there was no loss to his account.

Mr White claimed that Mr Blake had approached him, claiming there was a debt of £200. Neither of the men were strangers to the police.

Blake's injury consisted mainly of grazing. White's counsel, Meirion Davies said: "He has always said he didn't owe any money, and the offence was totally out of character."

He was said to have convictions for 48 offences, mainly of dishon-

Judge Eleri Rees said the attack took place in a public place with people walking by.

"It must have been shocking to see a man with a shovel attack another man."

The six-month sentence is to run concurrently with a three-year sentence White is serving for possessing heroin with intent to supply.

'Family man' is spared jail after police discover cannabis plants

MAN found cannabis plants told the police he became involved because he had lost his job due to the recession and was "skint".

Nathan Russell (38) of Maes Llan, Kenfig Hill, appeared at Cardiff Crown Court after being convicted by Bridgend Magistrates of producing cannabis and supplying the drug.
Russell, who represented himself, was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment, suspended for a year, and ordered to carry out 150 hours unpaid work and to pay a victim surcharge of £100.

Judge Patrick Curran told him: "I'll be completely straightforward, I'm going to impose a suspended sentence.

"You are a man who is very hard working, a good family man who fell on very hard times. You have picked yourself up.'

Prosecutor John Warren said that police went to Russell's home and found five cannabis seedlings grow-ing. He described them as "low category plants.

Russell admitted supplying friends, but said he made very little profit.

Most of the crop, he said, was for his own personal use.

If there was an excess, he would supply a number of friends, and would sometimes act as a middle man, "a conduit for others"

He accepted to the police that he had taken a risk.

Mr Warren said his motive was due to the recession, which had cost him his job.

He said he sold the drug to get by because he was "skint"

The court heard that he was now in employment and was said to have a conviction in 1997 for possessing Sarah Brimble (on left) presenting donations to Nicola Newhams, fundraising manager for Macmillan Cancer Support.

A FUNDRAISER from Blaengarw has smashed her fundraising target for Macmillan Cancer Support.

Sarah Brimble organised three fundraising events in her community to say a big thank you for the help her family has received from Macmillan Cancer

Mother of two Sarah organised a psychic evening, a family night and ladies evening at local clubs, and through the support of the Blaengarw community has so far raised a fantastic £1,222.
Sarah said: "I would like to thank the Blaengarw

Hotel and The Top Club for letting me hold my events there; the people who came along to help out and all the small businesses that donated raffle

"A huge thank you goes to my sisters Amy and Ellen Brimble and Andrea Waring, as without their support I wouldn't have been able to raise such a support I wouldn't have been unter to raise such fantastic amount of money! I look forward to organising more events in the future, as you never know when you will need Macmillan."

Anyone wishing to support Sarah, can contact her

Bridgend Rotary's 'walk on the wild side'

10am last Saturday, October 12, a party of eight members of the Rotary Club of Bridgend, led by Alun president . Brookes plus a canine guest, set off the Llangeinor Arms.

They headed north-wards over parts of Llangeinor mountain to Pant Blaenhirwr, overlooking Pontycymmer in the Garw Valley and Ogmore Vale in the Ogmore Valley.

A dry, crisp morning with good visibility afforded panoramic views of both valleys in the area cutting through the upper hill strata, and to the south the plains of the coastal areas of Glamorgan.

The return journey was via the Pen y Foel trig point, with thereafter a gentle downward slope to the Llangeinor Arms, to be greeted by fellow Rotarians and guests Bob Broughton, Jean Dianne Broughton. Pearce-Hubbard, Caron Jones, John Ward and Diane Ward for some welcome liquid refreshment, followed by a splendid lunch.

For all who walked, the last mile downwards from the trig point to the pub was easy walking – but even so, no-one could keep up with Edgar Burt and Gwyn Thomas!

Shock as council plans to sell off town's museum

Station in John Street, Porthcawl, could soon be up for sale, after the tenwere given notice to quit by building. Bridgend County Council Borough (BCBČ), wr. PHILIP IRWIN. writes

Speculation about the future of the Grade 2 listed building had been rife after BCBC closed the Tourist Information

Centre (TIC).
The tenants are the Porthcawl Museum and the Porthcawl and District Art Society. The vice-chairman of the museum, David Swidenbank, told The GEM what had hap-pened. Ironically, the museum had received more historical items only last week, as a result of the closure of The Rest (see story on page 3).

He said: "Finally, just as we are telling the Rest that the artefacts we col-lected will be safe with the museum, BCBC tell us that they wish to sell our building owing to budget cuts and we will have to move out.

"This is something we will not take without a fight and any support would be appreciated. We had a meeting at the museum with the BCBC estates people and reminded them that as an accredited museum holding over 5,000 artefacts, we are responsible for the collection and its disposal – should we get to that point.

"It is no simple task. We also reminded them that we feel that while we have to understand current financial problems, the council must have a moral obligation over the future of the town's heritage."

WILLOW AND WISPA.

HIS week we are looking for two homes – one for each of these lovely lurcher pups!

Willow and Wispa are both 16-week-old Lurchers. They are both sweet and energetic lit-tle dogs, who will grow into big dogs.

They will enjoy going to training classes. where they will learn the essential manners all dogs need, as well as being a great way to socialise with other dogs and people.

They would each really love to find a home where there is already another dog to show them the ropes.

We are appealing for them together, as we would really like to see them go to their new homes at the same time.

They would both like active homes, and would both suit older children, as they are sure to be bouncy young dogs as they grow!

If you would like to offer Willow and Wispa, or any of our other lovely dogs a home, please pop in to Dogs Trust Bridgend, or call on 01656 725219.

Isabella Mason, one of four children, was born in 1836 and grew up to believe strongly in household management. She didn't go to home by her mother. She was 'finished' in Switzerland, France and Germany where she learned the art of patisserie.

At the age of 19, she was introduced to and subsequently married Samuel Beeton, a publisher who was known for his publication of Uncle Tom's Cabin among many others.

He started to publish a monthly magazine entitled the 'Englishwoman's Domestic Magazine which carried lots of hints for household management, sewing patterns and recipes that readers sent in.

Eventually, Isabella wrote her now famous book of Household Management, which is still used in some homes today.

Although we hear a lot about Mrs Beeton and what she accomplished, she died at 28. If she had lived longer, who knows what she and her husband could have done with more time

Famous wills and their aftermath

NEWS FROM PENCOED WI

THE October meeting saw more than 40 people enjoy a talk by Mr Phil Davies, enti-tled Weird Wills.

It focused on the rich and famous and it was surprising how many verv well known faces had left confusion behind them.

The final plans are in place for the Christmas lunch and the deposit paid. It doesn't seem possible that the big day is so close, and that we have only only two meetings left in this

The speaker for November 10 is talking about life in Malaysia. If you would like to come along as a guest to hear the talk and see what the WI is all about please feel free to attend.

Visitors are always velcome.

We meet at Pencoed Welfare hall from 1.45pm to 4pm on the second Tuesday of the month.

event. The fundraiser in question was the East to West Coast Cycle Challenge. This consisted of 104 hilly miles from Workington to Sunderland.

The challenge was to be completed on a single Saturday on the last weekend in June, with four of the team cycling the whole distance and the remaining five in a team relay

Two of the more experienced cyclists in the group, Tony Barber and Sam Greaves, were able to complete the distance without too many difficulties; how-ever, Keith Fox and Gary Smith showed great determination to overcome the very tiring distance.

The rest of the team, including Ross Clarke, Dave Bendall, Lyndon Hellings, Rich Taylor and Gary Fisher, cycled the course in 20-mile relays. The whole team were then able to cycle the final 20 miles to the finish together, due to the generosity of Ronnie Quinn who gave up his Saturday to drive the support car.

Once again, we would like to thank all those who took part and supported this fantastic event.

The proceeds will go towards purchasing new equipment, to help provide critical lifesaving training to the young members of

Preservation group adds to its collection

HIS month sees the Cardiff Transport Preservation Group get two additional vehicles to its expanding collection of classic and historic buses.

The preservationists are based at a 1930s for-mer Western Welsh bus garage, known as The Bus Depot, in Barry.

They recently saw the arrival of a 32-year-old Tow Truck, a big ERF towing buses, and an 18-year-old former service bus, both from Cardiff Bus. Mike Taylor, chairman of the preservation group, said: "The bus is a very useful addition to our heritage bus collec-tion. It is an 18-year-old Dennis Dart single deck Cardiff Bus with 41-seat Alexander Dash bodywork that used to run locally in the city and entrance type vehicles, soon to be phased out of public service due to accessibility issues.

'More recently, this Cardiff Bus example has been used for some years as a training vehi-cle, so we are looking to restore it to an 'as deliv-ered' condition. This will require a re-paint and fit-ting of a full set of seats, as these were partly removed when it was used for training."

The Cardiff Dennis Dart will be added to the collection of preserved vehicles and will eventually form part of the runnable classic bus fleet. There are numer ous Dennis Dart vehicles on the road today, but this early example has an usual Alexander Dash body and is one of only seven delivered to Cardiff Bus. The Preservation

Group see it as important to have a few of the 1990s vehicles to allow all generations of the public to appreciate how bus travel changes, as vehicles like this will soon not be in public service and they are pre serving a piece of local transport history.

Mike added: "We also secured from Cardiff Bus an old tow truck which had been out of use for three years. It represents part of the ancillary fleet vehicles that all bus companies used to own themselves before these jobs were contracted out."

She said she would report on its findings when the work has been completed.

The Transport Minister added: "Our funding and support of bus services and community transport services and community transport schemes is likely to come under considerable pressure, but the important thing is to maintain access to key services even in these difficult times.

"I will be reviewing all issues around the help and assistance

we give to bus services in Wales."
Ms Hutt said: "I welcome the commitment made by the Transport Minister to review the impact of the loss of key bus routes and services across the Vale of Glamorgan.

"This review is being under-taken with the Vale Council and will take account of the adverse impacts that have been reported from across the County.

"I want to assure my con-stituents that I am submitting to the Minister and the Vale Council, all the evidence I have received, to assist them in this vital review

"I will report back on the findings to all those who have contacted me and to the wider community that has been affected including town and community councils!" Ms Hutt added.

Union 'galled' at the cost of council refit

LAST week, The GEM reported on how £248,000 refit of the Vale Council chamber included £52,850 for 70 new chairs.

The cost of the chairs was confirmed by the council, after Coun Richard Bertin had been told by a Vale member of staff that the individual cost was £800 a chair - in fact, the average cost per chair was a little lower, at

The council explained that a redesign of the chamber had been necessary because of disability legislation.

A spokeswoman pointed out: "The existing furniture was of a fixed nature and could not be re-used in a flexible space; therefore, new, removable folding desks are to be used to allow the cham ber to be multi-functional and increase its usage.

"A range of furniture types were assessed for their func-tionality, longevity, ease of use, appropriateness and value for money.

"The furniture selected was felt to best meet these requirements. The tables and chairs can easily be moved, to allow for much greater flexi-bility, which will enable maximum use of the space."

Coun Bertin said that since

The GEM published the story, people had expressed surprise to him, even stop-ping him in Holton Road to make the point.

"I find this amount of money is totally outrageous for chairs. It is so wrong to spend this amount of money when we are being forced to make cuts to services."

UNISON, the trade union, agreed with Coun Bertin.

Phil Carter, Vale union branch secretary, said:"Whilst UNISON completely understands and appreciates the need for the council chamber to be accessible to all, I do have serious concerns about the costs involved in this renovation.

"Local government workers are under increasing pressure and the situation is set to get far worse before there is even a glimmer of things improving. The Welsh government have released their proposed budget and local government is going to be the biggest financial loser.

"We are going to feel that throughout the Vale, and I think the council will be hard pressed to explain why they have spent such an excessive amount on this refurbishment, when people are likely to experience the brunt of the cuts in the local services they

He added: "Many workers in the Vale aren't even receiving a living wage, and when you consider the amount spent on the renovation in those terms, it is pretty galling."

a councillor warns

AM writing to say just how concerned I am about the cuts to local authorities in Wales.

I really believe that many Welsh councils will run out of money or will go bust due to next year's Welsh Government budget cuts. This means in already difficult times the councils will be forced to make further cuts and I before there is a detrimental impact on our communities.

We are struggling as i is and this will only make matters really much worse.

The Welsh finance Minister, Jane Hutt, must think again and help save our Welsh Councils. It's not good for local democracy and Wales!

NEWS FROM FONMON APIARY

Varroa still the biggest threat

– but wasps also a problem

THE fine weather of late has certainly given the bees a boost and I am pleased to say a little honey has come my way.

Treating for Varroa is now being undertaken – not all colonies are receiving treatment as there is abundance of brood present in all stages, and nectar is still coming in.

This season is about a month behind and as a result, the times stated in bee literature for honey to come off and treat-ments to begin is not at all relevant.

Varroa are the biggest threat and their control has to be addressed. A new product is available, its format is Formic Acid soaked pads.

These are different from earlier Formic

Acid applications as they can be used while honey supers are still on the hives. So why am I not treating all of the colonies? Well, as it is a new formula, I do not wish to put all of my eggs in one basket so to speak.

The results from a couple of colonies will help me in my evaluation of this product and should it turn out eggshaped, I will not lose all.

The name of this newest treatment is MAQ STRIPS. Translated to Mite Away Quick strips.

Varying the approach to mite control is sound sense. Over the years, several generations of miticide have been used but due to stipulated regulations being ignored, it has resulted in the mites developing resistance and, of course, a moneywaster to the beekeeper.

Unfortunately, there are still many beekeepers that firmly believe that they do not have Varroa problem. Consequently, little or no control is indertaken and there we have a ready supply of mites and their associated problems waiting in the wings.

Quite apart from the Varroa, this year has produced an abundance of wasps and they are causing problems to the beekeep-

Reports are coming in of colonies this happening?

It is that time of the year when wasp colonies proceed to die out. This comes about because the queen wasp has finished laying eggs and there are no grubs (larvae) to be fed by the adults.

The grubs have a diet of meat (caterpillars eg). In return for this, they produce a sticky substance that is the diet of the adult wasps. The lack of their feedstuff means that a search is on by these adults to find a substitute and the contents of a beehive meet their requirements, as does your beer, jam, fruit of all kinds and anything remotely sweet and sticky.

Finding such resources means that they can live a few more days, before death overtakes them.

Although I have reduced the entrances to my hives, the wasps are very persistent and guard bees are very busy but not always victorious.

The shortening days mean that the bees and I are preparing for the winter to come. Will they survive? I will certainly assist them as best as I can and hope that the weather will not be too severe.

We can only hope that spring 2014 puts in an appearance and not be the disaster that occurred this year.

Being a beekeeper requires an optimistic outlook, plus the will to tackle all of the problems that are our lot at present

Well, I received all this for nothing. I have heard people say they paid their NI stamp all their working life for this care; but the amount they paid then doesn't cover the cost today for doctors, nurses, cleaners cooks, food, maintenance men, and laundry workers.

I think the Government should give extra money to the hospitals and stop the cuts.

My husband's father was gassed in the first war. He had a saying "let them paddle their own canoe", and I am sure he would have said this now about the all the money given to other countries.

Yes, give money to aid other countries – but not so much. First, MPs should look after their

I am sure the vast majority of the people working in the health service do their best, but they are human beings like us patients and they are overworked.

A nurse's job is no easy task – they are dealing with sickness and death every day of their working life and if they are not treated properly, they could become stressed or ill and then who would care for us?

COME TO THE TENT D & DRINK FESTIVA

T has been my privilege to be the Chair of the Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival for nine of its 10 years and I have watched it grow and develop each year.

It is very rewarding to know that the food festival is now regarded as one of the best festivals in Wales, both by the industry and by the producers and exhibitors, who are incredibly complimentary about their visits here each year.

Working closely with the committee and event manager, we start working on the next year's event almost immediately the last one finishes. A huge thank you to all our committee for their help in the Again we welcome Waitrose and HSBC as our key sponsors - they have both been really supportive of our festival. To deliver the event costs over £60,000 each year, which is made up of corporate sponsorship, any funding received, as well the gate and exhibition fees we receive.

Any surplus each year is put into guaranteeing the following year's event and developing the festival

This year, we are introducing a new marking system for gaining entry into the main marquee areas. People will obtain a wristband and throughout the town a number of establishments will be offering incentives and reductions for those wearing these bands - either over the weekend or over the next few weeks

I am also pleased to report that many of the town's established businesses, as well as some new ones, are joining in the festivities by offering discounts, samples or other benefits to those wearing bands.

This will give visitors even more reason to visit the

The Park and Ride stops will again be the town centre X2 stops, which we hope will increase footfall in town shops, and encourage more traders to hold activities during the festival weekend.

Our aim has always been to build on the amazing food heritage of Cowbridge and the Vale and show-case this brilliant town, while supporting small producers in difficult times by broadening their audience over a great fun weekend.

Park and Ride

A FREE park and ride scheme will be in operation throughout the weekend (daytime only) and this year will drop you right in the heart of Cowbridge town centre - at the existing X2 bus stops.

If travelling from the Bridgend direction, you will be directed by the lovely AA signs to the Llwynhelig Farm P&R site, where there is parking for over 300

From the Cardiff direction, you will be directed to the Cowbridge School Park and Ride site, where there is parking for over 200 vehicles.

Buses and parking are free of charge and the service will run every 30 minutes from each site, returning at the same intervals. These drop you in the centre of Cowbridge.

FRINGE FUN AT THE FESTIVAL

HE Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival Fringe will provide a showcase for new and smaller food producers, local crafters, makers and artists, sustainable enterprises, community talent, and will be a nice place to relax on what promises to be a busy weekend in Cowbridge.

A marquee for live music, talks, café and seating will be located in the Old Hall Gardens, with additional stalls in the grounds and college annexes, plus the entertainment zone put on by Cowbridge Comprehensive pupils. Street food, wandering entertainers, a busking spot, mini golf and falcons on show will all add to the fringe atmosphere.

There will be plenty to see, do and enjoy for all the family; silver jewellery making workshops, stained glass making, willow weaving and clay pot throwing, will be on-going in the artisans

There will be advice available on chicken keeping and community food growing. Children will be kept busy by Play Aloud with parachute games and craft activities.

On the main stage on Saturday, Llansannor and Llanharry Primary School will sing at 10am, local melodic rock and covers band Orca play at 1pm, and Richard McCranor, guitarist, entertains at 3pm. Cowbridge Radio will broadcast live from the site with music and inter-

At 4.30pm it's time to 'Meet the Buyers and Bloggers' local food buyers and writers will visit the new producers on the site, fol-lowed by live Q and A in the marquee at 5.30pm, to which all festival stallholders and the public are invited.

Cob oven created at Old Hall Gardens

Last year's small temporary cob oven, built for the food festival fringe, was a grew success, will be rebuilt as a permanent community d festival fringe, was a great success, and resource for Cowbridge.

NEW resource for the community will be created ahead of the Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival this weekend.

Join Nancy Evans in Old Hall Gardens from 10am-4pm outside annexe 3 to learn how to make cob, build a cob oven (a pizza-type oven that you could create in your own garden) build a fire and ook in it.

For drying purposes, the cob oven has to be built over two days – but participants are welcome to come along for part of the time, or just call by to find out more about it!

The cob oven will then be a resource for community groups, private gatherings etc.

The cob oven has been funded by Creative Rural Communities, so places are free, but are limited. The project has been kindly supported by The Cowbridge Charter Trust.

Please call Nancy on 07729 758510 for more information, and to reserve a place.

and television personality Frances Donovan has hosted the foodie demonstrations at Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival since it began 10 years ago. The event celebrates its landmark anniversary next weekend.

In this interview, she looks back at her involvement with the festival.

Q Are you much of a foodie?

I love being involved in the chefs' demos but am actually worse than useless in the kitchen. The chefs at Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival of cuisines and disciplines, and although I don't know my blind baking from my blanching, I really enjoy all their demos

I'm a foodie to the extent that I appreciate good food and I'm lucky that my husband is a great cook, and I also love going out to eat. I love great Welsh cook-ing, but I'm also pretty partial to Greek dishes.

The cheeses, olives and dolmades are my favourites, but Baklava is my weakness. On a recent trip to Kefalonia, I just couldn't get enough of it. Good Baklava is the food of the gods!

Q Which are some of your highlights from the festival's last 10 years?

I enjoy catching up seeing what they are now cooking, as well as being introduced to new ones. As I'm vegetarian, I love Wayne Thomas' demonstrations with Canteen on Clifton Street.

Another highlight one year was Massimo Bishop-Scotti from Zucchero in Pontyclun, making the most memo-rable, delicious pudding ever with salted caramel and chocolate, and talking about the puddings created for M&S. Massimo is exhibiting again this year and I can't wait to see what he has up his sleeve. Q How has it changed during this time?

It's surprising how the festival has grown in terms of attendance since the early days, but on the other hand, it's no surprise how it has evolved – when you think of all there is on offer there.

As well as the faithful locals, people travel from afar for the festival because of the great chefs, fantastic exhibitors and quality produce. Every year, I come to realise a little bit more just how good Welsh produce is.

It is great seeing peo-ple coming back year after year and that's down to festival organiser Polly Wilson, who ensures the event runs like clockwork.

The combination of cooking, produce, tem-peramental gas, thou-sands of people, hun-dreds of vehicles and the dreds of vehicles and the elements could see the event go completely pear-shaped – but it never happens and that's because of Polly and her fantastic team. She's like Boudicea with a walkietalkie sweeping through Cowbridge!

Q Why is this such a special event?

For me, the festival narks that lovely sense of the beginning of autumn, when it's getting cold, and you can pick up all sorts of goodies to take home to hole up with friends and enjoy over a glass of

It has been a busy time for me with sports presenting for BBC Breakfast, BBC World and the news channel and working on football coverage for IMG.
I've also been recording ITV's monthly In Touch programme, which combines sport with conversation and so is right up my street. It has been pretty hectic, so I am really looking forward to Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival. It's always one I look forward to.

THERE'S TO DO

HE Festival is a great foodie weekend for the whole family with delicious treats and things to try in the food marquees.

As well as The Kids' Zone, the Festival Fringe at Old Hall will have pocket-money games and activities, as well as workshops for all ages. Entertainers and magicians will meander through Cowbridge and the various sites.

Kids' Zone day nursery

THE Fun Foundations Day Nursery will be opening its doors on Saturday to offer an array of kiddy-friendly and family-focused activities and facilities.

There will be a buggy park for those able to do without, to ease your shopping in the festival, a discreet feeding area for Mums, as well as changing facilities.

A café will offer light refreshments and some local exhibitors offering their wares. For the children, there will be activities and facepainting, tattoos and balloon bending, as well as some performances by travelling minstrels. Kids' Zone scheduled activities:

Saturday: 10am-4pm, face painting with Dandy Doodles; 12pm-1.30pm, magic show and entertainment.

See www.funfoundationsdaynursery.co.uk.

Scarecrow trail

THIS year, Cowbridge Food and Drink Festival has gone even more Scarecrow mad! There will be over 30 locally-made scarecrows dotted around the whole town.

Free trail maps can be picked up over the Festival weekend from The Entertainment Zone, Liquorice Laces, Cakes for Celebrations and Oscars, with children being asked to vote for their favourite scarecrow, as well as a few questions on well known books and characters

This year, the Scarecrows are themed to children's stories. To spot them all, you will have to look up high and look down low! And remember to vote for your favourite, to be in with a chance of a prize...

Champagne Marquee
THIS ever-popular feature of the festival runs for the entire weekend and is in a new location this year - situated just down the road in Vale Forge next to the main festival site.

The full bar serves Prosecco and a variety of Champagnes – as well as wines, beers, spirits and soft drinks. There will be live music and dancing all weekend from Aubrey and The Watchmen Band. Arrive early if you want to get a seat. Tapas and pizza will also be available. Entry is free to all on Saturday and Sunday.

Open Saturday: 10am-7pm; Sunday: 12 noon-6pm

Thank you to these businesses for the use of their land and representatives...

A TEAM from Dinas Powys were the overall winners of the recent 'Mini event at Margam Park.

Father and son Jeremy and Hugo Holmes were joined by nephews Tom and Ben and, racing under the name 'Team Sherlock', they took the team title.

All the competitors completed a 3,000m run, a 1,000m kayak course, and 2,000m orienteering in the park grounds.

The winning team finished in one hour, 20 minutes

The mini burn events encourage parents and their children to take part, and the youngest competitor was four-year-old Talar, and her sister Mali, aged eight, who are pupils at Ysgol St Curig, Barry. They ran with their parents, Ceri and Brian.

Mini burn events are organised by Multisport Wales, and the next event is the Cardin Mini Burn at Llandaff Rowing Club on October 27

ROMILLY PUPILS RAISE OVER £1,300 FOR NSPCC

TWO weeks ago, pupils at Romilly Primary School set about collecting sponsors to raise money for the NSPCC.

The older children oncentrated hard on completing a spelling test, whilst the younger children had to spot shapes in a picture that they decorated.

How delighted was Mrs Sara Phillips, local representative of the NSPCC, to come into school on Friday and to find out that the children JM had raised over £1,300! on hard times.

Where are the Wrens?

N November 1993, the Women's Royal Naval Service ceased to exist when over 4,000 women then serving, were fully integrated into the Royal Navy.

Almost 5.000 former Wrens and nany of today's RN women are members of the Association of Wrens; a charity existing to celebrate the past achievements of the Service, preserve its history and traditions, foster the esprit-de-corps and encourage serving RN women to benefit from the experience of former members of the WRNS

The association also supports the Wrens Benevolent Trust which exists to benefit all Wrens who have fallen

There are many branches of the association worldwide (I spent 34 years as a member of the Cape Town branch) and they hold regular meetings or just get together for lunch, tea or days out.

The camaraderie we all experienced when serving is preserved, memories exchanged and branches with serving women as members learn about the life and successes of the talented and dedicated women who currently serve.

If you are a former Wren or have served, or are serving in the Royal Navy, and wish to find out more, please contact me on 01633 810744. Mrs Dilys Beckett, Newport (Secretary, Cardiff Branch Association of Wrens)

Local midwife praised for her caring work

BEREAVEMENT midwife Tanneke Berwick is asking the ABMU community to support her at the national 'Butterfly Awards' by giving her their

The Butterfly Awards recognise families who have shown strength during the loss of a baby, as well as the pro-fessionals who support them. Shortlisted in the midwife category, Tanneke works with families who have had a stillborn baby, or whose child has passed away during the first few weeks of life.

Both on the ward and during home visits, she provides practical sup-port to the whole family as they make choices about their next steps.

This could mean organising for them to bath their baby, giving them hand and foot prints as a keepsake, or helping them arrange their baby's funeral.

Emotional support is also part of the role and Tanneke spends time with the family at home, listening to them and providing advice as they grieve. When they are ready, she refers them to a support group to meet others families with similar experiences. Tanneke, who is based at the Princess of Wales Hospital, said: "I am very honoured to be nominated for the award as I am very passionate about the role. It is a privilege to be able to help and support families through a critical and very sad time in their lives.

"We build up a rela-tionship during our time together and families know I am here for them for as long or as Tanneke was nominated for the award by Heatherjane Coombs chair of the Cardiff and Newport SANDS, charity group which supports patients experi-encing the loss of a baby. They work togeth-er closely as the group provides packs and boxes of information for Tanneke's patients.

Heatherjane said: "Tanneke is absolutely amazing. She is so in tune with her patients needs and goes above and beyond to help them through their grief.

"The dedication Tanneke gives is immense; one of her patients didn't have a car, so she drove them to the cemetery so they could visit their child's grave. She truly is extra special and I really hope she wins.'

Antonia Thomas, from Brackla, received support from Tanneke when her baby boy Harley passed away. She said: "Tanneke is so supportive and so helpful; she made a truly awful time bear-able. She is such a special person and you can tell she genuinely cares about her patients.

"It is nice to be able to talk to someone who is so willing to help you and when I was ready to think about having another baby, Brooke-Mae, Tanneke was there for me.
"It is lovely that she has been shortlisted for the award and it would be brilliant for her to win and receive the recognition she deserves." Cathy Dowling, head of Midwifery for ABMU Health Board, commented: "I am absolutely delighted to hear Tanneke has been nominated for a Butterfly Award. It is a fantastic achievement and one which is thoroughly deserved."

TLC turns wildcat into cuddly kitten

TINY six-weekold kitten was admitted to Bridgend Cats Adoption Centre after he was spotted by a keen-eyed employee at Rockwool, Pencoed.

The adorable bundle of fur, named Badger by staff in the centre, was terrified, dirty and very hungry.

Badger, is believed to have taken refuge in the factory, after becoming separated from his semiferal mum.

Ross Evans, product data controller at Rockwool, said: We saw him sitting on some pal-lets by our office; I sneaked over and picked him up.
"He was dirty, half asleep, very skinny and small. He hissed and spat at me a lot, but once I put him in the box to take to Cats Protection, I didn't hear a peep out of him." Jenna Hunt, cat carer said: "The last thing I expected when I opened the huge box was to find a tiny ferocious bundle of fur spitting at me. We had some reservation about whether we would be able to socialise

Badger. However, two weeks of TLC has turned him into a big softie. He is now a friendly, playful kitten who enjoys nothing more than having a cud-

Badger is one of over 150 cats and kittens in Bridgend Adoption centre looking for permanent homes. There are a further 346 cats and kittens on the waiting list but the centre has been powerless to help them all, as it is already stretched to the limit.

Sue Dobbs, centre manager, said: "We try to prioritise our waiting list and help the needies of cats, but it is a difficult task as there are so many desperate cases.
"We have closed our waiting list twice this year, to enable us to clear the back log of requests for help.

"To prevent this, we'd urge people to adopt a cat from us. No only will you be giving a home to a loving com panion animal, but it will help the centre to free up vital space so we can take in another cat that desperately needs our help." To adopt a cat, con-

'HOLD FIRE ON THE LAND SITES' call by regional Tory AM

LAND at the centre of a Wales Audit Office investigation has received planconsent from Bridgend County Borough Council to build 94 homes. Now, Welsh Conservative Regional AM Byron Davies has rung alarm bells about the plan for land at Ty Draw Farm, Pyle. The land was one of 18 sites across south Wales which were sold by the Welsh Government to Guernsey-based South Wales and Developments Ltd via the Regeneration Investment Fund for Wales (RIFW). This is an arms-length body within the Welsh Government.

Mr Davies, a former police officer, referred the £20.6m deal to the Wales Audit Office last September because of concerns about the value of the land involved. The land was sold privately and did not go to tender or

Mr Davies, who is Shadow Mr Davies, who is shadow Welsh regeneration Minister and a regional AM for South Wales West, said that there were ques-tion marks over what went on.

"I am concerned that plans have been approved for the Ty Draw site and applications are also being made for some of the other sites," he said. "Until we have the results of these investigations, it is inappropriate to start any developments on these sites.

Depending on the findings of the on-going investigations, the status of these pieces of land could be called into question.

"I know that local residents and councillors in North Cornelly fought hard to have this site retained for employment. Instead, 94 homes are to be built there although some land is being retained for employment use.

"Apart from the issues connected to the way this land was sold, there is also concern in North Cornelly about having more houses in the village.

"Almost 700 houses have been built in the past decade or so, putting a strain on local services including the health centre. People feel that enough is "The land at Ty Draw, which had previously been owned by the

Tough loss for Cowbridge RFC against Abercwmboi

XV travelled to the Cynon John taking his place. Valley to take on Abercymboi and lost 28-17.

Aberewmboi scored first with their scrum half putting over a penalty after nine minutes. From the kick off, there was some lovely counter-attacking by full back Richie Howson and left wing Tom Zaslona

There was a let off for Cowbridge at the midpoint when a kick down-field saw Abercymboi running it back through the middle of the defence, and only a final pass into touch prevented a certain score. Cowbridge got on the scoresheet after 30 minutes as the ball was moved down the line; Howson made the extra man and put winger Jamie Picton-Tuberville clear for an unconverted try.

After 37 minutes there was a well deserved try for scrum half Tom James, after several phases of play and good forward drives from second row Steve Birchenhough and flanker Connor Wyatt.

James found a gap in the defence to cross for a try converted by out-side half Carwyn Morgan.

Aber put over a second penalty through their lively no 9 to bring a halftime score of 6-12.

The second half was a repeat of the game last season, as Abercymboi scored a further penalty and then a try through their second row to lead 16-12 after just 10 minutes.

Kenfig Hill under-16s lose to late drop goal under-16s travelled to Mumbles in the hope of reversing their run of recent losses.

However, with an experimental back-line due to absenteeism, this was always going to be a difficult assignment.

In the early exchanges oth teams cancelled each other out with solid defence.

However, with Kenfig soon showed their attacking capabilities and taking advantage of some very average Kenfig tackling, a Mumbles forward scored the opening try under the

This seemed to spur Mumbles on and led to a period of sustained pres-sure where, with good options being taken, straight running and quick passing, they created a number of overlaps

Only some last ditch tackling by Kenfig kept them at bay but the inevitable eventually happened with Mumbles running in a try from the halfway line following some broken play.

At 14-0 down, Kenfig needed some individual magic from somewhere and as in most cases, it came from captain Connor Tantum who was playing out of position at fly half.

Taking the ball on the opposition's 22, he stepped inside the first and second oncoming defenders before touchng down with two other defenders left in his wake.

With the try successfully converted by Tantum it gave the Mules some hope at only 14-7 down.

However, with the try coming against the run of play, Mumbles continued to attack for the rest of the half although failing to score again with full back Sam Young stopping a certain try with a very strong tackle in the left corner.

The second half started in exactly the same manner with Mumbles camped in the Kenfig 22 from the beginning, pressure that finally resulted in a further Mumbles try, putting them into a 19-7 lead.

It was, however, from a Mumbles' scrum in the Kenfig 22 that the Mules scored their second t An error in the Mumbles' back line meant the ball was

He handed off another cover defender and set off up the left touchline riding a final tap tackle to touch down in the corner. Tantum again converted a very diffi-cult kick to make the score 19-14 to Mumbles.

This finally seemed to ignite the young Mules to pick up the intensity and offer an attacking threat as a team.

In the last five minutes of the game Kenfig scored their third try through another piece of individual skill by Connor Tantum.

Picking up the ball from a ruck inside his own half, he weaved and dodged his way past three defenders untouched, to score under the posts. With his own successful conversion it looked like he'd put Kenfig into a win-ning position at 21-19.

However it was not to be with Mumbles putting over a drop goal with the final play of the game and just edging out Kenfig 22-21.

With a number of players playing out of position especially in the back line Kenfig should take some consolation from this result. However, starting so slowly is giving them an impossible task to recover from, as the game continues.

The forwards need to improve the contact area at the breakdown to ensure ball retention, while the backs need to play simple heads up rugby putting the man in

LLANTWIT MAJOR JUNIOR RUGBY ROUND-UP

THE under-7s travelled on Sunday for their first away match to Penarth to play against Old Penarthians.

All players were very excited to be playing: the team for the matches was Ioan, Abbie, Iestyn, Kaiden, Osian, Ryan and Ieaun, and they played three 10 minute matches.

The first game score was Old Pens 7 Llantwit Major 4, second match Old Pens 6 Llantwit Major 3, and the third match Old Pens 5 Llantwit Major 3.

The try scores were Ioan with four, Kaiden with three, Abbie, Ryan and Ieaun; all players had fun and enjoyed themselves, which is what its all about.

The under-8s travelled on Sunday to play against Old Penarthians.

The team for the match was Braydan. Flynn (c), Kian, Rhys, James, Thomas G. Marcus and Owen.

They played two matches - the first match was Old Pens 9, Llantwit Major 4 and the second match was Old Pens 3, Llantwit Major 3.

The boys played fantastic - they were excel-lent with their tagging and Thomas G managed his first tag of the season and was very proud; Owen managed to get his second tag and was beaming from ear to ear.

Flynn was excellent at organising the team as well as managing some excellent tagging. while Kian did some fantastic tagging also.

There was no stopping Braydan with three fantastic tries and some excellent tagging; Marcus scored two wonderful tries and also did some good tagging, and James and Rhys also scored to finish the match. Man of the match was Marcus Sunday saw Llantwit Major under-9s travel to Penarth for a match against the Old Penarthians.

Llantwit took the lead early in the match due to some great running and passing between themselves. With some fantastic running from Sam A and Caleb, and great defence from Logan and Dylan L, the first match finished 8-0 to Llantwit.

The second match started with as much commitment and determination as the first.

Well done boys! Llantwit Major travelled to Penarth to play against Old Penarthians following on from two confidence boosting wins.

The first 10 minutes of the game was a tense affair with neither side gaining a foothold in the other's half. Llantwit. Major tried to get their running game going but a mixture of handling errors and well drilled defensive work kept them at bay.

On the 10 minute mark, however, a break through the middle by Oskar Williams set up good ball for the backs to spread wide with Morgan Jenkins sprinting over to score in the corner.

This sparked Llantwit Major into action and seemed to ignite some With the scrum set on the halfway line, outside half Ethan White spotted the narrowest of gaps on the blind side and broke through, only to be brought down just short of the line.

Scrum half Ben Reilly saw the opportunity to dash down the blind side of the cover defence to sneak in the corner and double the Llantwit lead.

With only two minutes to go in the first half a quick tap from a penalty freed up room for Morgan Jenkins to race away from the cover defence, scoring in the same place as his first, and give Llantwit Major a hard earned 15-0 lead at halftime

After the break Old Pens used their forward advantage and started to pressurise the Llantwit defence, and as the weather worsened so did the standard of play.

Both sides were making handling errors and it looked as if the score would remain 15-0 to Llantwit Major. With play camped on the halfway line Olly Wong made some strong yards and following the ruck the ball was spun wide and hooker Sam Brown ran in from 30 vards to make it 20-0.

With time almost up. Llantwit put in a deep restart and some aggressive tackling saw Morgan Greenaway come away with the ball and show great strength to barge over and make it 20-5 with the last play of the game.

Another good victory for Llantwit Major saw the team record their third win in a row, and a good defensive performance mean that they head to Wednesday's blues cup match full of confidence.

Athletic Youth in impressive form

ATHLETIC vouth travelled to the Bishopston Sports Centre to play their fourth league fixture against Mumbles youth in the Ospreys "A" league.

The Ath were hit with a number of injuries but despite only being able to field a squad of 21 players the strength in depth once again proved decisive.

The Athletic came straight back at their opponents and with just eight minutes on the clock, a quick tap penalty and great back up play led to the game's first try with hooker lestyn Merriman crossing the Mumbles line. Despite the score the plucky Mumbles team tried hard to come back at the Ath and combined well between forwards and backs to run at the Athletic. The determination of the Athletic team was plain to see howev-er, with the defensive work of the Ath back row of Geraint Lang, Andrew Wilcox and captain Rory Thomas outstanding.

The service from young scrum half Tom McCardle was also excellent around the base of the scrum and this prevented the home team from making any real progress up to the break.

From the kick off in the second half it was clear Mumbles were going to throw everything at the Athletic and run the ball at every opportunity.

Indeed on a number of occasions it was only the strength of the Athletic midfield defence where Scott Govan. Tom Jenkins and Craig Lewis were outstanding that prevented Mumbles from breaking through.

With the Athletic defence looking so strong and despite playing uphill and into the breeze the Athletic began once again to take control and run back at Mumbles.

It was only last ditch defence from Mumbles that prevented Athletic full back Ben Jones from breaking through on a number of occasions following long runs.

The coaches began to ring the changes in personnel with substitutes Sean Wilcox, Hywel Cosby, Cian House, Jake Williams, Liam Phillips and Lewis Taylor being brought into the game.

The game ebbed and flowed with the brave Mumbles boys testing the Athletic defence in all positions, but the game was effectively sealed with 10 minutes to go when from broken play Scott Govan landed a lovely 40 metre drop goal to take the score to

At the other end, after their successful partner-ship last week, Phil Morgan and Dean Cleave combined again to almost take the lead with Morgan's early volley narrowly drifting over the bar.

Jamie Butcher stepped up for the next opportu-nity minutes later after the home side looked to capitalise on a series of poor clearances from Albion.

After receiving the ball from a Barry defend-er, Butcher took the ball past a couple of players before sending it just wide from the edge of Albion's box.

The opening goal did-n't take long to surface and when it did come, it was from an unlikely source. A rare, headed goal by Leigh Lewis rounded off a quick and impressive movement by the VI's.

Keeper Joughin began the attack and sent the ball to Rogers who flicked it onwards upfield with one touch to Cleave. Last week's top assist man then sent a lofted pass straight onto the advancing L.Lewis's head, knocking it past Albion's shot stopper.

With confidence high, Jamie Robinson was next to test Albion's defence with his solo effort. The full-back put pressure on with ease before dribbling the ball past several delighted. players and testing their keeper with a low shot which was well saved

The VI's soon doubled their lead when captain, Jordan Mortimore the ball at the back and found previous scorer, L.Lewis.

The winger sent the ball long with towards Morgan who capitalised on a fumbled interception by an Albion defender, turned and sent the ball over their keeper to make it two.

The third goal came within two minutes of the last when another poor clearance found Reece Lewis. Brothers Reece and Leigh tried an attack down the line before the ball came back to Butcher.

The striker sent the ball with power towards the goal, but it struck the bar and the ball bounced on the line and out.

Poor defending gave Morgan another chance within seconds but his second shot, although on target, was saved well.

Jamie Butcher, Sean Lucas, Dean Cleave and Michael King all came close to adding a fifth goal for the VI's heading into the final ten minutes of the game, but it took a controversial sequence of events to finally reach the high five.

After an Albion attack, the ball broke free and Tony Charles sent the ball long and wide towards Robinson. The ball looked to bounce out of play before Robinson hooked it back in and then sent Geraint Jones on a run into the box.

Jones was then fouled inside Albion's box for the referee to only give a free-kick outside the area. There was nothing area. There was nothing controversial with the taking of the set-piece, however, and a well worked play saw Mortimore run over the ctationary, hall before stationary ball before Charles fired low past Albion's defences.

PF EMPHATIC WIN FOR YOUTH

Even the absence of a number of regular players could not prevent Porthcawl youth clinching a 24-0 win over Bryncethin last weekend.

The Seaweeds registered two tries in each half to stretch their unbeaten start to the season to seven games at the expense of determined opponents.

College commitments and injuries to star backs Ollie Banner and Cory Gardner forced Matthew Owen, in his first year as Porthcawl youth coach, to reshuffle his side, but they were still too strong for Bryncethin.

"We had loads of players out," Owen said. 'It just shows what great strength-in-depth we've got at the moment."

Porthcawl had been averaging over 40 points per game in recent outings, but Bryncethin provided far more resistance in a fiercely-contested encounter that occasionally became too physical.

This resulted in the referee, who had already issued yellow cards to players from both teams, sending off Bryncethin's James Harris with 10 minutes remaining

By then Porthcawl's victory was assured after forwards Emyr Wile, Ethan Newbery and Jack Taylor all crossed for tries. Centre Jack Power added two conversions before wing Dylan Winn-Davies touched down to complete the BRIDGEND SPORTS under-10s travelled to Maesteg to play Celtic.

Sports started strongly putting real pressure on Celtic's line but unfortunately a final pass didn't go to hand: Celtic then played their way into the Sports half and came away with the first try.

Sports continued to play their attacking brand of rugby and were very unlucky to have a pass intercepted which allowed Celtic to go 14-0 up. Sports continued to fight back

Sports continued to fight back and following a period of play where they were camped on Celtics line, they spread the ball wide allowing Will P to burst over for the first try. In the second half both sides relentlessly tackled with Celtic secring the first try of the half scoring the first try of the half. Sports soon struck back with Josh finishing off a well worked move to claim a try in the corner. This was converted by Morgan.

Despite fierce resistance Celtic scored the last try of the game. Coaches were proud of the per-formance by Bridgend Sports who came up against a tough team but competed hard, ending with a respectable scoreline.

MVP went to Tom Gardner for his consistent work at the breakdown, the number of turnovers he won and his committed tackling.

Team: Owain Peters, Morgan Rees, Rhys McNally, Rhys Vaughan, Josh Wilkinson, Will Price, Mac Francis, Cullen Loynton, Rhys Chick, Dom Manaseitava, Tom Gardner, Rory Lee and James Murray

UNDER-9S

Due to the Maesteg Celtic team only having eight players, it was decided to play four 10 minute halves of eight players

Unfortunately the game finished after three halve Maesteg had a couple of injuries.

In the first half the Sports had a slow start, conceding two early tries. Although Morgan Palethorpe then pulled one back, Maesteg soon scored again to make it 3-1.

Morgan again scored but Celtic replied with another two, making it 5-2. The Sports looked dead and buried in this half, but two late tries from Dan Hughes and Logan Davies made the core a more respectable 5-4 to Maesteg Celtic.

In the second half the Sports showed great determination and teamwork with the ball in hand and in defence, not conceding a try and winning 2-0, with the two tries coming from Shea Duggan. With the lead changing four times this was an entertaining third half with both sides providing some great running rugby, with tries coming from Joe Wilkinson, Jacob Hughes and two from his brother Dan for his hat-trick. Well done to Logan for his first try of the season.

Squad: Morgan Palethorpe,

Fynn, Sam Barraclough, Morgan Burke, Oliver, Logan, Tristan, Shea, Max Harris, Max Hemsley, Dan Hughes, Jacob, Cameron, Sam Jones, Curtis and Joe.

UNDER-7S Bridgend Sports travelled to Maesteg Celtic to find two further teams had been invited.

First up was Tondu. A very close contest on a small pitch resulted in a 1-1 draw with strong tagging and pressure from both teams.

Tondu lead 1-0 at halftime after an opportunist try, and in the second half there was more of the same with good tagging - a special mention to Dylan, Ben and Jack, who made last ditch tags when it looked like Tondu were odds on to score.

With more direct running and good support play, Owen was able to collect an excellent offload from Sam and score a try in the corner.

Up next was the home team, Maesteg Celtic. After a good team talk before the game, Sports came out all guns blazing with excellent runs from Jack, Ben, Owen and Sam and support/tagging play by the entire Three tries by Ben and two for Jack resulted in a 5-2 halftime lead. The second half was a bit scrappy with a lot of stoppages and turnovers but two further tries from Ben and Sam meant a 7-2 win for the Sports.

The third team did a disappearing act - maybe we scared them off with our second game performance!

Congratulations to Owen for his player of match performance always looking to run forward and support his teammates. Well

UNDER-11S

It is always a shame when any team at grass root levels cannot field a full team for various Hopefully Maesteg Celtic will overcome the present difficulties as they do have a strong nucleus of a team and all they require are extra players. Three of the Sports players played for Maesteg Celtic to make up the numbers.

It seems that the rugby season has definitely started; the referee blew for the start of the game only when it started raining.

This truly was a game of two halves; the first half was a very close game with both teams committed, fluid attacking rugby counteracted by determined defending.

Maesteg Celtic scored a welldeserved try and conversation. It was only then that Sports started to attack with more determination and tries by Xander and Elliot and a conversion by Tomos ensured that at the end of the first half Bridgend Sports were leading 12-7 The second half started with Bridgend on the ascendency they were more determined in attacking and a couple of quick tries more or less finished the

As Sports' confidence increased they become more in control of the game and scored eight tries and eight successful conversions, the final score 68-7.
Man of the match was Ben.
UNDER-14S

The Sports opposition this week were a tall Tata Steel

The Sports started the game strongly as they had most of the possession and they came close to scoring several times but they couldn't break down the Steel

Shortly after, against the run of play, the visitors scored a try when one of their players ran down the wing to touch down in the corner. Their conversion was unsuccessful as it fell just short.

The Sports showed great determination to edge in front when number 8 Callum Reape powered himself over the line off the back of several phases to score an important try. Outside half Drew Price then kicked an wide to put the Sports in the

Just before halftime, Tata Steel regained the lead when their winger made a break and came close to scoring, but full back Will Prosser made a crucial tackle and then flanker James Skinner forced their scrum half to step into touch but this went unnoticed and they scored a con-troversial try. This made the score 10-7 to Tata Steel going into the second half.

The second half started with the opposition continuing to press, but the Sports defence was well organised and they managed to prevent their opponents from scoring for a long period of time.
The Sports kept on battling but they couldn't find a way through the strong Tata defence. In what turned out to be the last play of the match, Tata extended their lead when they scored a try from a penalty. This made the final score 15-7 to Tata Steel.

The boys shouldn't be too disheartened by this defeat as they were in the game from start to

UNDER-8S The under-8s travelled to Maesteg.

After some good recent training sessions, it was evident the boys are starting to pull together and gel as a team.

Some superb attacking rugby saw them running in a flurry of tries from the onset. Great angles of running and support play by all, with the speed of the Sports players too hot to handle for Celtic. This was coupled by a very encouraging defence where every player tagged tirelessly.

Four quarters were played and the Sports managed to come out on top in all of them; being able to field two separate teams helped as Maesteg were low on numbers and subsequently tired as result.

Sports came away with a 11-4 margin, having conceded a few sloppy tries towards the end. In fairness to Maesteg, they never gave up and competed well gave up and competed went throughout.

The try scorers were Dylan, Joel, Callum and Tom Chick, and man of the match was awarded to Dylan Morgan for his excellent work in both offence and defence. This was a very pleasing all round team performance and easily the most impressive of the season to date

This group of players are beginning to click and mature into the game of tag, the coaching staff are very pleased with the efforts they are putting into training, it's starting to show on the pitch and we look forward to more performances like this week's.

Squad: Joel, Dylan, Callum, Kian, Cian, Iestvn, Jodie, Nathaniel, Ruben, Tom Chick and Zach.

PENARTH Hockey Club enjoyed a return to winning ways in week three of the 2013-14 Davis Wood hockey league, while the veterans side completed a clean sweep of victories in miserable conditions on Sunday. The 1st XI continued their perfect start to the season with a comfortable 2-0 home victory over Hereford at Barry Sports

Centre

The

Both teams were relegated last year but, of the two sides, Penarth are looking the more likely to show the 'bouncebackability' needed to gain a swift return to Conference South. Last year saw each team win their home fixture, so Penarth went into the game expecting victory but knowing they would have to play well to earn it.

Perhaps distracted by the pre-match photoshoot arranged by sponsors Scafftag. who turned out despite the pouring rain, Penarth allowed Hereford to start the game hetter and the visitors dominated possession for the first ten minutes, although sound defending by Penarth meant they failed to create any real chances.

Once the Vale side found their feet.

owever, they were by far the better side, and the more attacking formation they have been playing this year penned Hereford deep into their own half. The pressure finally told with the first goal of the game, as the 'fabulous Baker brothers combined at the top of the 'D', with Richard sliding the ball to Chris, who bagged his first goal of the season with a sweetly struck shot to the near post.

Penarth are making a habit of scoring oals in quick succession and, two minutes later, the lead was doubled when Phil Lane sent in a long ball which was well convert ed at the back post by Sam Wooding, who graduated from the second team at the start of the season and has so far justified his call-up with two crucial goals in as many games.

Penarth kept pushing forward, but couldn't manage a third before halftime and were then met by a more competitive Hereford side after the break. Once again, however, the visitors' attacking efforts were met by solid defending, with their best chance coming on the break when a Penarth attack should have been rewarded with a penalty corner for a clear foul.

When the offence wasn't spotted by either umpire, Hereford broke quickly, ounding goalkeeper Mark Harris and flicking the ball towards the top corner only for ever industrious captain Mark 'Jonty' Thomas to keep the ball out of the testing the Hereford goalkeeper, but the game ended 2–0 with the home side securing their third victory and first clean sheet of the season.

After the drubbing endured at the hands of visitors Llanishen & Caerphilly the previous weekend, the 2nd XI headed to Neath knowing that they had to get their season back on track against their winless hosts.

A largely unchanged side started strong-and, with Neath being restricted to early 'hit and hope' attacks, were able to exert pressure down both flanks, with Tom Davies, in particular, probing for weak-nesses in the home defence.

As usual, Penarth pressure did not result in goals, with both penalty corners and balls into the 'D' being squandered before a quick break from the back resulted in some quick 'scissor hockey' that allowed Dave Watkins space in the area with just the 'keeper to beat.

While the resulting sound of ball on backboard may have been a welcome relief for the Vale side, it also spurred the home team into renewed efforts, with the Penarth defensive line of Ian Smith, Richard Bromiley, Craig Llewellyn and Paul Roberts increasingly called into

With any breach quickly dealt with by keeper Calum Grant, the score remained 1-0 to the visitors at the break, but the conversion rate up front remained a worry

The pattern of the game remained the same through the early part of the second half, with Penarth again wasting pressure with retiant again wasting pressure before a reprise of the opening goal – quick inter-passing from back to front involving Matt Birch and Dave Kidby – eventually opened the way for Watkins to double the visitors' tally.

With little to lose, Neath responded by pressing forward in greater numbers, and the remainder of the game became some-thing of a rearguard action from Penarth. Although the home side sneaked a goal with 15 minutes remaining, it proved to be a consolation as Birch, Graeme Jones – now back at a more familiar right-half position after recent travels through the positions - and vice-captain Rob Harrison added to the defensive effort.

The win, Penarth's second of the camaign, boosts the Vale side to fourth in the De Cymru 2 standings.

Despite originally being scheduled as a away game at Llanishen & Caerphilly, the second outing for Penarth's 'new' veterans XI became a 'home' encounter when the opposition ran into problems booking their usual Hawthorn pitch.

Despite the supposed advantage of play PJ the final whistle, with Richard Baker twice by the final whistle, with Richard Baker twice by the final whistle, with Richard Baker twice by the final whistle, with Richard Baker twice snap Penarth into action. Having fallen behind, as they had in their debut against Neath last month, Penarth responded with Ian Powell featuring heavily, stretching the visiting defence before the combination with a sharp Marc Sawyer started reaping dividends.

Following an excellent midfield combination and some battling in the 'D' by Dave Thomas, Sawver eventually managed to force the ball home off a defender's foot to bring the home side back on level terms

The goal, however, only served to spur Llan & Caer into pressing forward, and the pressure allowed them to snatch another lead shortly before halftime when good work down the right created a one-on-one with Penarth 'keeper Matt Birch. Despite his valiant efforts, the visiting forward was able to slot the ball home and create a 1-2 scoreline at half-time.

The second half ebbed and flowed as both sides struggled for midfield dominance and the passing from both sides was, at times, definitely something for the purists.

Excellent combinations between Mark Robinson, Richard Clarkson, Rob Harrison and 'man of the match' Dave Morgan continued to open up the Llan & Caer defence, with former GB forward Thomas eventually finding the space to slot the ball

The continued struggle for midfield dominance was gradually being edged by Penarth and, with less than five minutes to go, Dave Watkins found himself clear with only the 'keeper to beat. Having played a 1-2 off the Llan & Caer goalpost, he coolly slotted the ball home to give Penarth the lead for the first time in the game.

In the few minutes remaining, Llan & Caer pushed forward gamely, looking for a last gasp equaliser, but the cool head of captain Nick Pratt and the assured keeping of Birch ensured Penarth held out for a hard fought first victory.

This weekend, the 1st XI will look to maintain their 100 per cent record with an away game to fourth-placed Cardiff & Met C, while the 2nd XI entertain Gwent 'A' with whom they are tied on points. The veterans' next game is on Sunday, November 10, when they face a Welsh veterans' side at Barry.

RHOOSE LIFEGUARDS DO SWELL!

A SMALL group of Rhoose Lifeguards recently attended the annual Swell, beach ocean and water sports festival, which took place at Boscombe beach, Bournemouth, on September 28-29.

Rhoose competitors were joined by athletes from three other popular paddle disciplines – Surf Ski (single and double), Stand up Paddle Board (SUP) and Board Paddling.

Saturday started with a 8k double ocean ski race, which was then followed by a knock out round of spec ski sprints.

The windy conditions and rough seas made for some challenging racing with Rhoose competitors making it through to semi-finals in the sprints and the B final in the long distance race.

Sunday saw an improvement in weather and sea conditions, and the team from Rhoose dominated the long distance open water swim.

This was followed by a board race, consisting of a 1.5k course for the younger competitors and a 3k course for the older ones. Again the team from Rhoose dominated in all categories.

Special mention should go to Jai Gerrish, Ethan Wall and Kiera Harris who competed in the age 8-10 category of the board, having never paddled a distance event before and to Georgia Wall who competed in the SUP against the ladies.

Team captain Karen O'Donoghue-Harris said: "It was a brilliant way to finish off a successful season, lots of fun was had by all, it was a young team and they should all be very proud of their achievements."

Petanque open makes for thrilling competition

ON September 29, the Barn Petanque Club held its annual open triples competition.

As the playing area is limited, a total of eight teams contested this event, with participants coming to The Barn Petanque from as far afield as Cardiff, Wenvoe, Penarth, Barry, Caerleon, Pontypool, Llanhennock, Bristol and Hereford.

The morning was played in two pools of four teams, with timed games to ensure that all the players could take lunch together.

From the morning results the teams were ranked for their places in the Cup quarter-finals with the afternoon games not time limited. The four winning teams progressed to the Cup semi-finals and the losing teams to the bowl semi-finals.

The four teams contesting the Cup were TPD, Les Gallois, Three Degrees North and The Extras, and the four teams contesting the bowl were The Raiders, The Three Stooges, Joanie 2 Jeffz and Barn's Wallace.

All the semi-finals were well contested games with TPD, players from The Barn, Cardiff and Bristol, and The Extras, a team from the Barn, progressing to the Cun final

After three ends in the Cup final, The Extras were leading 4–1, then TPD took control of the game and progressed to a 13–4 victory.

By comparison, the plate final was a much closer game; the game was level pegging until Three Degrees North pulled ahead to win 13–10.

Barn's Wallace won the bowl

Barn's Wallace won the bowl final against the Raiders 13–3, and The Three Stooges beat Joanie 2 Jeffz 13–6 in the spoon final

The Cup finalists and the plate winners each received a bottle of wine and the plate runners-up received chocolates. All the participants expressed their thanks to the organisers of the competition and also said they looked forward to the event being held next year.

Another win for Dinas Powys RFC

RETURNING to league action after last week's friendly, the travelling contingent from Dinas Powys made the journey up the A470 to Treharris under the grey autumnal sky.

Dinas were boosted with the return of flanker Lewis Dunleavy, playing on permit from St Peters. The hosts kicked off and Dinas looked to gain territory early on.

A promising break saw the Villagers penetrate deep into the home teams 22 but the referee adjudged them to be off side and the penalty kick provided Treharris with the ideal opportunity to alleviate the pressure.
A spate of penalties was costing the home side dearly as they conceded possession and territory, and the Villagers soon found themselves with an opportunity to take a three point lead by way of a penalty goal attempt. Fortunately for Treharris the kick by Nick Coles was both short and wide, a let off for the home team.

The first try of the game came in the 19th minute. A lineout in the Treharris 22 was collected cleanly by Gaz Williams and a great pass from fly half Gavin Cooper put captain Dai Lloyd clean through for a run in under the posts. With the conversion all but a formality the score

A well worked break from the scrum nearly produced the second score of the game, but Cooper was penalised for accidental offside. Following excellent work from Dunleavy in

Villagers were awarded a penalty and Coles extended the lead to 0-

Treharris began to leak penalties and with the number of infringe ments mounting rapidly the official had little option but to yellow card the home fly half and the hosts found themselves down to 14 for 10 minutes. Nick Coles' successful penalty conversion saw salt added to the wound as Dinas pulled away, the score now 0-13.

Both sides traded penalties in a scrappy phase of the game, each trying to use the other's ill discipline to their advantage. It was Dinas that were able to capitalise as a missed clear-ance kick by Treharris was collected cleanly by James Smith.

The winger continued his excellent run of form and, using the space offered to him by the Treharris scrambling defensive line, ran to the corner for the game's third try. A difficult conversion was expertly take by Nick Coles and as the ball bisected the sticks the score stretched to 0-20.

Treharris began to throw long passes in an effort to create space but a wayward pass found its way into the hands of James Smith. One click of the winger's heels and he was off, weaving his way mesmerically 90 metres through numerous defenders to score his second try under the posts. Coles' kick was good and the halftime score stood at 0-27.

The hosts were rewarded early on for their enterprise by way of an early try. However the conversion was missed and the score

The third try seemed to awaken the Villagers and Lewis Dunleavy used his predatory instincts and score the fourth try which was neatly converted by Coles, taking the score to 17-34.

With just minute of the match remaining the crowd sensed that this was the final nail in the coffin for the spirited comeback shown by Treharris.

Despite securing the bonus point captain Dai Lloyd was not satisfied and spurred his charges onto one final attack. It was only fitting that it was Dai himself who put the cherry on the cake with a sublime piece of play, as he deftly chipped the ball over the last defender before running onto the kindly bouncing ball and crashing over for the try. The conversion kick was the last of the game with Dinas running out comfortable winners with the final score a flattering 17-41.

The game had been a thoroughly bruising encounter with many of the players feeling exhausted as they left the field, yet the aches and pains were quickly forgotten as attention quickly returned to the well-being of Gareth Williams, who had been badly injured early on ir proceedings.

Unfortunately the injury proved to be quite severe with the xray showing multiple fractures which will require surgery.

All at Dinas Powis RFC wish to extend their best wishes to Gaz and we hope to see him on the touchline soon as he is a valued member of the squad both on and off the field of play.

This Saturday, October 19 Dinas entertain Rhigos on the Common, 2.30pm kick off. If you can't make the match in person be sure to follow @dinaspowisrfc on Twitter for blow-byblow match commentary.

Cadoxton introduce new team

BARRY FC has another team this vear, the under- 12s, playing in the VOG League.

Organizers Doyle and Doyle and Tommy Taylor would like to thank the Vale of Glamorgan Council for their grant and especially Darren Parry of Barry Trade Sales for his kind and generous sponsorship of the kit.

The club is to hold a social evening at Cadoxton Conservative club on Saturday, November 30, juniors and youth from 7pm; contact Steve on 07828641701 for further

The Barry Atoms go on tour

LAST weekend the Barry Atoms were part of a momentous occasion for this young side. This was the first, and now hopefully not the last, time that we went go on tour!

We were gratefully hosted by Haverfordwest RFC. Lined up to play a couple of games, we arrived on a glorious autumnal Sunday on a b morning. We lined up to Haverforwest - the boys had sat patiently and watched them play a game earlier and had noticed that this was a tough physical side who possesed a good amount of technical ability, but also played the game fairly.

We kicked off and straight away they were in our faces, but this was not to be a day where we

We were slick in the first game

We then decided that this was not the day we were going to give any ground; we restricted their backs to gaining any kind of momentum and the team were pinned in their own half for large portions of this masterclass.

Through further outstanding rugby played by this ever-improv-ing side, there were tries scored by Jacob Jones, Zac Fifield, Jack Norman, Jack Couch, Dylan Wall and Tom Mort. These tries, added to conversions by Griffiths, to conversions by Griffiths, Fifield, Jones and Cai Macarthur, saw the Atoms run out winners,

Porthcawl RFC grab the spoils against Ferndale

PORTHCAWL took the spoils in this lower half of the table clash at South Road against Ferndale, due mainly to a virtuoso performance from flyhalf Ollie Jones and a vast improvement on recent perform-ances by the home nack.

On an afternoon fit for rugby, Porthcawl started off with purpose and spent most of the opening plays in the Ferndale half.

When early pressure forced the visitors in a transgression at a ruck, Jones slotted a super penalty from 45 metres.
